1. Objective

The objective of this consultation paper is to obtain feedback from market participants and general public on the proposed regulatory framework for securities managers which specifies their licensing and operational requirements.

2. Background

Clause (lvi) of section 2 of the Securities Act, 2015 (the “Act”) defines a securities manager as follows:

“securities manager” means a person who manages or offers or agrees to manage, with or without remuneration, a portfolio of securities belonging to another person, whether on a discretionary authority granted by that other person or otherwise;

Further, the functions of a securities manager are included among the scope of “regulated securities activities” in terms of section 63 of the Act, which makes it mandatory to obtain a licence from the Commission before providing such services.

Presently, the portfolio management services are covered under the framework for Non-Banking Finance Companies (NBFC) as investment advisory services. However, the NBFC framework does not allow a securities broker to be registered as an NBFC, thereby precluding it from providing investment advisory services. Therefore, the purpose of the proposed Securities Managers (Licensing and Operations) Regulations, 2024 (the “Regulations”) is to enable securities brokers to provide such services in the capacity of securities managers.

3. International Practices

An overview of various jurisdictions where securities brokers provide advisory or portfolio management services is as follows.

Sr.	Jurisdiction	Practice
1.	United States	Broker-dealers are permitted to provide investment advisory services under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (the “Advisers Act”). Broker-dealers, which refer to brokers permitted to trade on behalf of their clients as well as carry out proprietary trades, are thus engaged in providing investment advisory services in accordance with the requirements of the Advisers Act.
2.	Singapore	Firms providing securities brokerage services can also provide financial advisory services without the need to obtain a separate licence. The Financial Advisers Act 2001 exempts holders of a Capital Markets Services (CMS) licence, which includes firms providing brokerage services, from requiring the financial advisor licence.

Sr.	Jurisdiction	Practice
3.	Malaysia	Stock brokers falling under the “universal broker” category are allowed to carry out corporate finance activities, which include advisory services and fund management services. Universal brokers have more stringent licensing requirements in terms of paid-up capital, capital adequacy ratio, and other quantitative and qualitative criteria.
4.	India	There is no restriction on providing portfolio management services for stock brokers. Hence, stock brokers that satisfy the eligibility requirements can be registered as portfolio managers with SEBI under the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Portfolio Managers) Regulations, 2020.

4. Proposal

The main features and requirements of the proposed Regulations are summarized as follows.
